Our alphabetical odyssey is now complete

The United Kingdom offers a host of iconic sights and memorable views. So in 2011 we began a journey of rediscovery, in alphabetical order, around the most important sights to be found on this sceptred isle. This enabled us to create the first part of this lovely issue, which took us from 'A' for Angel of the North all the way to 'L' for Lindisfarne Priory.

We are now delighted to present the second part of the issue, which takes us from 'M' for Manchester Town Hall right through to 'Z' for the ZSL London Zoo.

Importantly, our featured landmarks were chosen to represent every corner of the UK and to reflect many facets of our culture and history: with defence of the realm represented by castles and code-breaking, and engineering acumen illustrated by sights such as the Forth and Tyne bridges.

Yet while these iconic places were all chosen for worthy reasons, each one also offers an aesthetic appeal that makes our UK A-Z as beautiful as it is informative, and a wonderful keepsake for every visitor to our island home in this very special year.
